England Development Squad v Netherlands

Despite rattling up 244 in their 50 overs, the ECB Women's Development side slipped to a six wicket defeat by The Netherlands in the ICC Women's World Cup Qualifying Championships in Scotland yesterday.

After the young side had lost a couple of early wickets Beth McGregor crafted an entertaining partnership of 122 with Fran Wilson to steady the innings.

The left-handed McGregor (89) top scored for the development side, blasting eight boundaries off 108 balls. Somerset batswoman Wilson added an impressive 76 before she was bowled by Anne-Marie Tanke, leaving ECB on 156-5.

McGregor continued with good support from the lower order before she was ninth out in the final over.

Marloes Braat was pick of the bowlers for the Netherlands taking 3-33 as the Dutch were set a target of 245 for victory.

Beth Langston and Kathryn Doherty claimed the two early wickets of Violet Wattenberg (6) and Caroline De Groot (21) respectively to raise the ECB Development XI's hopes of victory but they were dashed as Caroline Salomons (100*) stepped in and led a successful run chase for the Dutch.

A diving catch from Hannah Phelps secured the dismissal of Marijn Nijman in the late stages but could not impact on the final result. With only four more runs required Salomons brought up her hundred to win the match for The Netherlands.

Beth McGregor said: "The pitch was quite slow so every ball was a challenge. I was happy with the way I paced my innings, we did well to recover to 244 after a low total looked on the cards. Unfortunately we weren't able to defend our total but we have learnt a lot from today, particularly the way we need to bowl and field here in our next two games."

England Development Squad v Scotland

Kathryn Doherty and Fran Wilson led the ECB Women's Development side to a crushing victory over Scotland in the ICC Women's World Cup Qualifier competition in Scotland today.

After winning the toss for the ECB side, Jo Cook put Scotland into bat favouring her bowlers on the damp wicket.

A solid opening partnership with the ball from Deanna Cooper and Beth Langston saw Scotland struggle under pressure and fail to build the runs.

Yorkshire's Doherty was on form taking 3-15 and was backed up well in the field by Langston, who removed Lynne Dickenson for a duck with a direct hit.

Scotland never looked like building a high score and were all out for 115.

After losing the unfortunate wicket of Alice MacLeod who was run out in the second over, Doherty (49*) and Wilson (53*) formed an unstoppable partnership to knock off the total in just under 20 overs.

The ECB Women's Development XI won by nine wickets.

After the game Kathryn Doherty said: "I found the wicket had dried out quite a bit when I got out there which made batting conditions slightly easier for us. Fran and I built a strong partnership by punishing the bad balls and running well together. I really enjoyed it out there"

Fran Wilson said: "Today was a great opportunity for us to get back on track and perform to our potential. It was satisfying to have a positive contribution to the team's win."

The ECB Development XI will play Ireland at New Williamfield, Stirling tomorrow. This fixture is rescheduled from Tuesday August 10 and will be their final match of the ICC Women's World Cup Qualifying Championships.

England Development Squad v Ireland

ECB Women's Development XI defeat Ireland by seven wickets, to win the ICC Women's World Cup Qualifier competition in Stirling today.

Continuing their form after dominating Scotland yesterday, Jo Cook once again won the toss and put the opposition into bat. This decision paid dividends with early wickets falling, leaving Ireland on 5-72.

Lancashire's Alex Hartley led the bowling attack for the development side picking up 3-8 along the way.

Hartley was backed up well by Alice MacLeod (2-12) and Lucy Maxwell (2-24) who both had good spells, leaving the Irish unable to build an innings. Ireland were all out for 105 after 45 overs.

The ECB Development XI looked comfortable as they rattled off the total in just over 26 overs, losing just the three wickets along the way.

Fran Wilson (35) put in a good contribution before Kathryn Doherty (13) joined MacLeod at the crease to hit the winning runs for the development side.

Berkshire's MacLeod (42*) top scored for the development side and said: "We kept them down to a good run rate early, the pitch made it hard for them to get our spinners away. We started reasonably steady, but with our top order putting away the bad ball we managed to keep the run rate ticking over.

I'm really happy with the win, it's great how we have progressed as a team throughout the tournament."

Reflecting on the performance of the ECB Development XI throughout the competition Paul Shaw, ECB High Performance Manager for Women and Girls said: "This tournament has provided us with a number of great opportunities for our young players. It has been very pleasing to see the players progress both as individuals and cricketers, cumulating with a professional performance against Ireland today.

I would like to thank Phil Hudson and the ICC for organising this tournament and giving the ECB this very importance development opportunity."
